Alan Liu presents a wide-ranging exploration of how cultures historically and in the present first “encounter” new media, and tell themselves about such encounter moments. Alan Liu is the author of The Laws of Cool: Knowledge Work and the Culture of Information (2004) and the weaver of Voice of the Shuttle online destination for links in the humanities and social sciences.